Q: Will rebates be available for new construction?

A: No. U.S. Department of Energy requires us to restrict the program to replacement of existing appliances. One of the goals of the program is to remove old, inefficient appliances from the electric grid.

Q. How much money is available?

A: The funding available for rebates to consumers is approximately $5,607,450.

Q: Why these appliances?

A: In determining which appliances to include in the rebate program, Commerce considered the objectives of ARRA, SEEARP and the amount of money available, as well as the goals of the 6th Northwest Power Plan. In doing our research we received input from the state's electric, gas and municipal utilities recommending that a majority of the funding be used for the replacement of older clothes washers with new higher efficiency clothes washers as this is where Washington would experience the biggest savings in electricity, water and waste treatment. One of the goals of the program is to introduce consumers to these new higher efficiency clothes washers and create a market transformation bringing significant long term benefits to Washington. Refrigerators were included based upon research, as well as feedback from retailers and utilities, regarding the potential energy savings for consumers.

Q. Who is eligible for this recovery fund program and what can this money be used for?

A. On October 15, 2009, the Department of Commerce (Commerce) submitted a proposal to the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) for participation in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) funded State Energy Efficient Appliance Rebate Program (SEEARP). Approval was received November 2009, authorizing development and implementation of this program.

Individual residential consumers in Washington replacing existing refrigerators and clothes washers with Energy Efficient appliances will be the final benefactors of the appliance rebate funds. These funds will supplement existing rebate programs. Our goal is to have a program that makes it easy for consumers to obtain both incentives. The program plans to make consumer rebates available March 15, 2010.

Please Note: In many cases your local utility already provides generous appliance and equipment rebates. We urge you to call your local gas or electric utility to learn more, or search the Database of State Incentives: <http://www.dsireusa.org>. (Just click on the state of Washington map)

Q. What is Washington State Department of Commerce role in distributing the money?

A. Washington State Department of Commerce will facilitate the distribution of money through Portland Energy Conservation, Inc (PECI), an experienced rebate processing company. This company will leverage and enhance existing marketing efforts being implemented by Washington utilities and retailers to reduce administrative costs and maximize funds available for consumer rebates. Commerce is responsible for tracking funds and reporting to DOE.

Q. Are there any other rules or obligations I need to know about?

A. Most importantly, remember that rebates will not be available retroactively, rebates will not be available for new homes and the rebates are limited to qualified appliances. U.S Department of Energy requires us to restrict the program to replacement of existing appliances. Any additional rules or obligations will be publicized as appropriate.

Q. I still have questions. Who do I contact to get more information?

A. Rebecca Stillings, Program Manager, SEEARP 360-725-3123 or rebecca.stillings@commerce.wa.gov
